Impact of COVID-19 on Plan Provider Premium Rates

The HSB previously asked about actuarial cost forecasts on 2022 premium rates due to COVID-19

- Aon has had many discussions with carriers on the expectations of premiums for the upcoming years, particularly now with COVID cases increasing
- Following a discussion with Kaiser in particular, a key difference between then and now is ability to proactively prepare now for pandemic-based operational influences on care delivery, relative to the largely reactive nature transpiring in Q2-2020:
  - Then: needed to account for increase in staffing costs given overtime and make-shift housing to allow workers not to go home after long shifts and risk infecting family members, needing to secure extra PPE at a time when supply was limited and thus prices were much higher than pre-pandemic, etc.
  - Now: much of their staff is vaccinated, they have prepared for ramped-up PPE needs, etc.
- Aon will continue to monitor and have a national team connectivity to actuarial leaders of the major health plans and will notify SFHSS and the HSB if the expected “no impact” vs. normal trends projection were to change.
