WORKING FROM HOME:
STRATEGIES TO NAVIGATE UNCERTAINTIES

Webinar Course Description

Most City employees are currently working from home, many for the first time. COVID-19 caused an abrupt transition and many are dealing with family obligations, fear and uncertainty- all while continuing to work.

This training includes tips, tools, and curated resources to help you manage your remote working environment so you can be productive and stay engaged with your team. This will also be an opportunity to connect with other City employees and share strategies to stay positive during this difficult time.
